JACK THE PEEPER CAUGHT

Man Placed in Jail Caught Peeping in Windows

Friday evening about 10 o'clock, Richard Robinson, colored, of the county, was placed under arrest by Constable McNamara on the charge of peeping in windows. Robinson was caught peeping in the window of Mr. Jettis, in East Third street, and annoying the occupants of the house. The officer had watched him for some time and when he began to act suspiciously he placed him under arrest. Robinson is well known to the police having been under arrest several times and is one of the chief witnesses to the killing of Adrial Jones by William Brockbridge, at Lewisburg, several weeks ago. He will be given trial in the next few days by Judge Fred W. Bauer.

ALUMNI 10—M. H. S. 7.

The Alumni fulfilled their promise to show the High School the inner workings of the National Pastime, in their annual base ball game at League Park, on Friday. Weis and Quigley starred for the Alumni at the bat, while Phil Purnell and Shea were the whole works on the fielding end. Mathews played the heavy hitter for the school boys, while Granny Marsh imitated Ty Cobb in fielding. The special features of the game were the graceful actions of Moll Brown on the coaching line and Hooty Kirk's armour plated bean. The line up:

THE SHOWS

The Gem presented a very good show last evening with the Third Commandment. The music by the Gem orchestra continues to be the big drawing card for this popular play house.

The Pastime gave to its patrons one of the best pictures ever in this city when they flashed The Guardian of His Plock on the screen last evening. The band organ featured in some special music and the playing of Miss Crawford on this instrument is making the music lovers of this city sit up and take notice.

The Washington Opera House presented an extra good bill of vaudeville last evening. The tumbling act of Mr. Nor was the feature of the bill and Broncho Billy, who was the head liner on the screen is evidently still a great favorite with the movie.

Rev. Carl Rhodes, of Clintonville, Ky., is visiting at Washington.

SWISS BELL RINGERS

Delight Appreciative Audience at Third Street M. E. Church

Friday evening at the Third Street M. E. Church the Swiss Bell Ringers gave a musical entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The company was composed of Mr. and Mrs. George and daughter, Miss Josephine, and aside from being accomplished musicians, they added much to the success of the musicale by exhibiting their talent on twenty-five separate and distinct musical instruments.

Miss Josephine George, the junior member of the company, is only sixteen years of age, but has already mastered some fifteen instruments. She has been doing concert work since she was eight years old.

The company received generous applause after each number and they have been requested to come to Maysville again.

A CORRECTION

Algoma Pens 8 Cents Per Can and Not 25 cents

On yesterday, through an error in the composing room, Algoma Pens, in the advertisement of the Kroger Grocery Company, were listed at 25c per can, where as they should be 8c per can, and we accordingly make this announcement to correct the error.

BIG DOINGS SUNDAY

Sunday promises to be one of the biggest days in the sport history of Maysville. With an aeroplane flight and a good ball game, as the main features. The aeroplane flight will be the first ever held in this city and no doubt many will take advantage of this opportunity to view one of the wonders of the age. An expert aviator will have charge of the machine which is a baby Curtis invented by Glenn Curtis, the holder of many records in aviation meets and one of the pioneer aviators ranking second only to the Wright Bros. The machine will be in charge of Mr. Alvin C. Wilson of Chicago, ably assisted by Mr. William F. Crawford, of Pittsburg. Mr. Wilson will give fancy exhibitions of flying and it is rumored that one of this city's young men has secured permission to make a flight with him which will add to the attraction as few if any of our citizens have ever made a flight in an aeroplane. Before the aeroplane flights, the Regulars of this city will play a game of base ball with the Covington Moose. The Moose are rated as being the fastest team in their class in the Cincinnati neighborhood, and the Regulars will have to go some to trim them, but with the recent reorganization, and with the help of the new blood in the line up they feel that they can and will place the game on their side of the score sheet.

MAYSVILLE MAN INJURED IN HAMILTON, OHIO

Word was received here late last night that Mr. James Calloway, of this city, was seriously injured in a paper mill in Hamilton, Ohio, where he was working. As yet relatives in this city have been unable to learn the extent of his injuries. Mr. Calloway is well known in this city, having resided here a number of years and his many friends hope that his injuries are not so serious as the meager reports would indicate.

Mr. Stanley McNutt of Dover was in this city Friday on business.

AT LAST IT HAS COME

For some time we have been wondering at the delay, and growing more and more nervous over the suspense, for we just knew that, sooner or later, it had to break out sometime, somewhere. And now comes the Cologne Gazette with the announcement that included in the latest spring fashions will be women's toques in the shape of torpedoes.

Naturally these torpedo shapes are tame and are but a modest beginning of this brand new style but they are enough to cause apprehension, for novelties in style, though they may have a modest beginning, soon reach an extreme that makes mankind gasp and kick strenuously.

The torpedo toque is simply the forerunner, father or mother as it were, of the dreadnought bonnets, the submarine "sailors," the 42 centimeter pokes and so on to the extent of the milliner's imagination. Trenches, fortifications, bombs, aeroplanes, Zeppelins, ambulances, and what not may be soon expected as head gear. Armament millinery is to be the style, and, in order to be in the full style, a most coveted desire, you have got to rush the style to the limit.

There is but the faintest shadow of hope and that is the possibility, although quite remote, that the war millinery will be confined to war territory and that our own dear women folks will spare us and stick to their artificial flowers, fruits and vegetables, which are beautiful enough, at least peaceful, and cost just as much.

Professor Hibben of Princeton says: "I do not advocate preparedness for war, but preparedness against war." Which is but another illustration of the difference between tweedledum and tweedledee.

We have lived in this world long enough to know that the fellow who works for what he wants gets it much quicker than the one who prays for it.

A dispatch from Athens says the Turks are short of arms, but the reports of their rapid retreats indicate that they have very good legs.

If it is true that after marriage the husband and wife grow to look like each other, then there are many wives who are entitled to our deepest sympathy.

If any one has a good remedy for the fauntons he will find it to his advantage to get into communication with the Sultan of Turkey.

The horrors of war are yet to come when the book agents try to sell us histories of the great conflicts after peace has been declared.

It is now wondered which of the neutral nations will step into the place on "the brink of war" just vacated by Italy.

It would almost justify "rocking the boat" if it were certain to result in tipping Bryan overboard.

Most of us spend today thinking of how we will suffer tomorrow for the mistakes we made yesterday.

And now we wonder if Roosevelt and Barnes will enter the next Republican convention arm in arm.

The woman whom a man never forgets is the one who threw him over—just before he got tired.

The Chronic

President Vail of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company said to a New York reporter: "American business conditions are fundamentally excellent. Let us, then, say so. Don't let us be like the chronic invalid whose wife remarked of him sarcastically:

"James has been enjoying poor health for some time now, but today he complains of feeling better."

Knocked Out

A youthful physician had been summoned as a witness in a case which depended on technical evidence, and opposing counsel in cross-examination asked several sarcastic questions about the knowledge and skill of so young a doctor.

"Are you," he asked, "entirely familiar with the symptoms of concussion of the brain?"

"Yes."

"Then I should like to ask your opinion of a hypothetical case. Were my learned friend, Mr. Banks, and myself to bang our heads together should we get concussion of the brain?"

"Mr. Banks might," was the disconcerting reply.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week.

If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, falling or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT

Spring Lamb and Mint Sauce

March is the month for spring lamb just as April is the time for early violets and other sorts of spring beauties.

Mint sauce is always mentioned in the same sentence with lamb and yet many cooks do not know how to serve the two articles in combination. Other things like new potatoes, asparagus green peas and spinach are more frequently eaten with this meat. An excellent recipe for making mint sauce is this one:

Chop the spearmint very fine and add enough vinegar to cover it and sugar to suit your taste. Let this stand tightly covered for an hour or longer and serve with the meat. The mint must be washed through many waters to remove all the sand or dust that clings and then all the coarse fibres and stems must be discarded.

Spring lamb is small so that the cuts are not like those of mutton but are "halves" or quarters. The fore-quarter is the more choice. Lamb chops are seldom from spring lamb but from small or young sheep.

The finest chops are at least two inches in thickness; if you have them cut thinner you cannot cook them to best advantage. The only way in which they should be cooked is by broiling. The heat should be high at first and may be reduced after they are started cooking. When they are thoroughly done, serve with mashed potato and peas.

A fore-quarter of lamb comprises shoulder, neck and breast; it weighs from seven to ten pounds and needs to be roasted two hours. If you do not serve mint sauce with it sprinkle it over with lemon juice as this improves its delicate flavor.

Boiled leg of lamb is delicious eating. The time required for cooking this depends on the size of the cut. It is usually served with parsley sauce or with spinach.

A lamb dish that is justly popular is spinach and lamb cutlets. The cutlets are taken from the neck and must be well trimmed. Egg and bread them and fry in deep fat. Steam the spinach or boil it and drain very well and use it to garnish the meat.

Lamb pie seems to be the natural ending of a left-over bit of lamb or mutton and this is right, for it is enjoyed by all the family. Cut off the lean meat from the bones in nice, small pieces, season and place in small baking dishes for individual serving or in a large pie dish. An under crust is not used for it sometimes becomes moist before the pie is served. Cover the meat with gravy; add some diced cooked potatoes, and if convenient a layer of asparagus tips also cooked. Put on the lid of pastry and bake it to a light brown.

Dr. V. V. Morgan of Flemingsburg was in this city Thursday on business.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Maysville But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed. Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble. It is often the kidney's cry for help.

Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys. Read what Doan's have done for Maysville people.

Lang Stevens, Maysville, Ky., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had backache, which extended into my kidneys. The kidney action was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my family, so I gave them a trial. They helped me greatly."

Mr. Stevens is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Stevens had—the remedy backed by home testimony. ## LOVES OF GREAT AMERICANS.

Margaret Fuller and Her Italian Marquis

Through a Roman art gallery one day in 1847 rumbled an odd-looking woman—a woman whose face and queer costumes and eccentricities were as well known throughout America—and almost as famous—as was the President of the United States himself. But in Italy her looks and mannerisms provoked covert grins and nudges from all except one of the art-gallery loungers.

The woman was Margaret Fuller, genius, reformer, world celebrity, who had written immortal works and whose crusades of mercy had bettered the conditions of hospitals, asylums and prisons here at home. Carlyle had sneeringly described her as "a strange, lifting, lean old maid, but not nearly such a bore as I expected."

As Miss Fuller wandered through the art gallery, she lost her way. Seeking the exit, she turned to find a slender, dark-eyed Italian staring at her in frank adoration. Catching her eye, the man stepped forward and asked if he might have the honor of showing her through the picture rooms.

Prim New England spinster as she was—and thirty-seven years old at that—Miss Fuller did not rebuff the Italian. She who had shunned men except as intellectual comrades fell in love almost at once with this stranger. It was her first love and her last.

The man introduced himself as the "Marquis Ossoli," and obtained leave from her to call at her hotel. He was almost penniless, and he was seven years younger than she. Yet there was a sudden and perfect love. Margaret at first refused to listen to Ossoli's proposals, as she had vowed her life to reforms, and as she feared her friends would laugh at her if she should marry. (She had boasted: "I have yet to meet a man whose mind can compare with my own.")

But her resistance was as brief as it was futile. In December, 1847, she and Ossoli were married. The ceremony was kept secret. No hint of it was allowed to reach her family at home. She was in close correspondence with such American celebrities as Hawthorne, Emerson and Greeley. Yet her marriage was not mentioned in her letters to them.

For two years the couple lived together clandestinely, in Rome. There their little son was born. Then came the Italian revolution. Ossoli fought in the patriotic ranks. During the siege of Rome Margaret was a veritable angel of mercy in the hospitals and the trenches. She stood fearlessly at her young husband's side in battle and in sortie.

At last Rome was captured. Margaret and Ossoli and their child fled for their lives, for the city's defenders expected scant mercy from the victors.

To the Abruzzi Mountains the trio fled. Thence, after many hardships and perilous adventures they made their way to Leghorn. There (Margaret still morbidly dreading the ridicule of her friends at home) they boarded a merchant bark, the Elizabeth, bound for New York. There were few passengers besides themselves.

It was a voyage of horror, culminating in supreme tragedy.

Soon after they set sail an epidemic of small-pox scourged the ship. The captain and many others died. The Elizabeth was swept by gales and buffeted mercilessly by head winds. One misfortune followed another. At last, short-lashed and battered, the ship sighted Fire Island. This was on July 29, 1850.

That night a heavy sea was running. The Elizabeth ran aground and waves rushed over her sloping decks. By valiant rescue work the lives of nearly all on board were saved.

But when the danger was over Margaret and Ossoli and their son had vanished. None had seen them swept into the water. None could guess how it happened.

Next day the child was found on the beach—dead. But the bodies of the wedded lovers were never recovered.

GOLD IN NEW YORK

New York, June 5.—It was so cold here today that the populace shivered underneath its furs and overcoats. It was the coldest June day in eight years. The mercury went to 46 just before daylight and lingered around that mark throughout the morning.

MAYSVILLE BANKERS

Receive Just Praise for Their Entertainment of Group 9

That the bankers of Group Nine enjoyed their stay in our midst is shown by a letter from Mr. Arch B. Davis, Secretary of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, addressed to Mr. N. S. Calloun the newly elected President of Group Nine, which in its complimentary terms only gives the local bankers just credit for the splendid meeting they arranged.

Following is the letter:

Louisville, Ky., June 3rd, 1915.

Mr. N. S. Calloun, Maysville, Ky.

Dear Mr. Calloun:—

It is the consensus of opinion that the meeting held in Maysville was by far the best Group Meeting ever held in the State of Kentucky. I have attended all of them, and I know it was the best; not only the best but by long odds the best, and that is really saying a great deal, as some splendid meetings have been held. I have heard a great deal of favorable comment since the meeting, and the best part of it is that we all feel that the Maysville bankers were as glad to have us as we were to be there.

With sincere personal regards, Yours very truly,

ARCH B. DAVIS, Secretary.

IMPORTANT NEWS TO CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

It will be of interest to the Christian churches in Mason county to know that Mrs. P. C. Buck and the missionaries at Lu Chow Fu, China, are doing marvelous work. This missionary is supported by the offerings of the churches of this county and by the Children's Day offering from these schools. There is a real tragedy in our missionary work now that the nations are at war. The prices of food stuff in China and the other fields has increased as have other necessities. This has been keenly felt by them all. But now the terrible thing to relate is that because the churches in the United States failed to contribute this year as they did last it has been necessary for the mission board to reduce the already meager salaries of all the missionaries and the native helpers 10% and to reduce the salaries of the missionary secretaries 20%.

The cause of this reduction is the lack of funds for the work. The mission board could do nothing else. But are we treating the missionary right after we have sent them to the far front then to reduce their salaries? Will the churches of Mason county and the Bible School meet their obligation in paying the salary of our own Living Link Missionary, Miss VanCleave Buck. If we do we must make the Children's Day offering a little larger.

A. F. STAHL, County Supt.

may eventually give to women rights to which they are entitled, but good health, which is the birthright of every American woman, must be hers before she can fully enjoy the privileges which woman's suffrage will bring. Women who suffer from those dreadful pains, backache, headaches, irritability, nervousness and depression, symptoms of organic trouble, should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, to restore them to a normal healthy condition, as it has thousands of other American women.

STEALS AUTO

A negro man by the name of Smith stole the Hupmobile of Mr. William McTeale, of Brooksville, Wednesday, and headed for this city. When last seen he was this side of Morningsburg coming in this direction, but it is thought that he crossed by the short cut over the tiermuntown hill to the Lexington pike. He would have been given a warm reception if he had come to this city as the Police were watching every entrance into the city and there is no doubt but that he would have been placed under arrest.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years

Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mr. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
